70.         A feral (free roaming cat) is a cat born and raised in the
71.         wild who has never had contact, or only very limited↵
72.         contact with humans, or a cat who has been lost or dumped
73.         and has turned "wild" in order to survive in their↵
74.         environment. These cats often live-in groups called
75.         colonies and they can be found living in secluded wooded↵
76.         areas, suburbs or right in the middle of a city.↵
77.         Cats who live in a managed colony that are spayed and
78.         neutered, vaccinated against rabies and provided food, water and shelter ↵
79.         (and medical attention when necessary), can live a happy
80.         life. However, there will always be risk involved as there are many ↵
81.         dangers associated with any cat living outside. Free
82.         roaming cats do NOT pose a danger to people and will usually go out of ↵
